Driving the market with new solutions

Clarivate File Histories (filehistories.clarivate.com) has been a trusted file history provider for more than 30 years, never losing sight of the changing needs of our customers. Always looking ahead, we have led the way in providing full-service solutions that improve your workflows, save you time and money, and enable complete, intuitive searching of all content within the most accurate file histories available.

World's largest in-house inventory of file histories

As the world's premier provider of patent and trademark file histories, we have the largest inventory of files available for immediate download – over 220,000. While you get a jump start on your research, we will go back to the United States Patent & Trademark Office (USPTO) for additional updates made to the file since it was last compiled by us to make sure that your order is as current as possible.

The most accurate file histories available

We were the first provider to utilize state-of-the-art Optical Character Recognition (OCR) equipment to scan files, which captures 99 percent of the document text. Now, we are the only provider of file histories that employs OCR technology with multiple vote engines, which improves data accuracy by 80 percent. Each file history is organized and indexed in a logical and intuitive manner – so you can quickly and easily find the relevant content that matters to you.

Free family reports available in every file history

With each electronic file history request, you will also receive a free family report featuring the complete INPADOC family for your source document. For each family member you will see (where applicable):

- U.S. litigation information
- U.S. post-issuance data including assignments
- Maintenance fee status
- Legal status (for filings from 42 INPADOC countries)

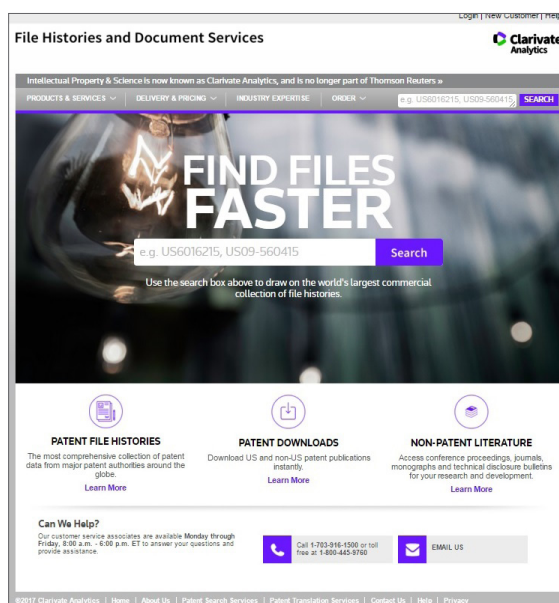

High-quality indexed files

- All electronic files are searchable using the Adobe® Acrobat® Find feature. Files include detailed bookmarks and thumbnail views, so you can easily navigate to the section you need. And, the Adobe Reader Select Text feature allows you to select, copy and paste text into a Microsoft Word® document for further review and analysis.
- With CD-ROMs, multiple files are stored on one disc and detailed labels are included to help you easily identify the information you need. A tabbed and indexed hardcopy version of your file can also be requested.

Extensive international file history coverage

Our coverage of international file histories spans over 40 countries—ensuring the likelihood that the prosecution wrapper you want will be available. This also means that when using the free family re-report in your file history, you can order file histories for many of the records shown as family members. This allows you to quickly and easily get a comprehensive look at the whole history of an invention.

We have spent years developing strong relationships with patent offices around the world and we understand the nuances of each country and how they operate. As a result, we are able to ensure the fastest, most cost-effective files.

Ordering file histories has never been easier with filehistories.clarivate.com. Immediate inventory downloads, intuitive usability and account management are just some of the new features we provide to meet your file history needs.

Exclusive file collaboration portal

Revolutionize the way you use and store file histories with our exclusive File Collaboration Portal. Offered to customers that have a large demand for file histories, our portal centralizes what is usually a de-centralized process for managing inventory. With this digital solution, you can easily share file histories across your organization and with your clients, significantly improving communication and collaboration. And, you will save valuable time and money by quickly locating and retrieving previously ordered documents. Our portal gives you access to your file history documents anytime, anywhere.

Exceptional customer support - close to the source

Not every file history request is simple. That is why we employ experienced professionals with specialized skills to handle even the most complex orders. Our customer support team understands your needs and will guide you through the ordering process should you require additional help.

Our file history business is located just steps from the USPTO and we have a team working onsite there to locate files that are not yet in inventory. Our specialists have a thorough knowledge and understanding of the intricacies of the USPTO. And, our extensive experience and strong relationships with many patent and trademark office staff members gives us the ability to track down ‘hard to find’ files to quickly deliver the file histories you need – every time.
